DR. BAKER'S
PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oil and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known one, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with its healing properties the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Canker or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhœa, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back, or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a [illegible] of the Panacea internally.

If a [illegible] has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as [illegible] to be Home.

TUESDAY MORNING NOV 25 1862

Our Produce Market

The extraordinary dry and pleasant fall now nearly at its close has furnished a very favorable opportunity for our farmers to seed down their next year's crops of grain and open and improve more farming lands for purposes of cultivation. The indications are at this time highly flattering for the raising of much larger amounts of grain next year than has ever yet been produced in Oregon in any former year. We regard these favorable indications as exceedingly fortunate to our farmers and producers, and it is to be hoped that each and all have availed themselves of these advantages.

There is now no question but that the demand next year for all kinds of produce will be doubled or thribled to any former year, and if the people of Oregon have been wise in preparing for this demand there is also no question that they will receive double or thrible benefits therefrom. We are satisfied that there never has been since the settlement of Oregon a more flattering prospect for the speedy acquisition of wealth and prosperity than at the present time. The rich and extensive gold fields within our borders have been sufficiently prospected and tested to demonstrate and render conclusive the conviction that hundreds of thousands of people can and will realize sufficient profits therefrom to warrant them in coming to and working there. The settling of one or two hundred thousand people East of the mountains will give to Oregon an impetus in trade and commerce which would soon equal if not exceed our rival State, California. Oregon possesses many advantages for the growth and prosperity of its people not yet realized. To develop these advantages and resources only needs the addition of more people to our population and the well directed efforts of that population. We have depended too much, heretofore, on foreign producers to supply our markets and relied too little on our own exertions to produce a healthy action in our markets. The farmers of Oregon have acted too much upon the policy of not producing a surplus for market unless they could obtain exhorbitant prices for their produce. Too many farmers resolve not to attempt the raising of grains, or produce of any kind unless they know or have good reason to expect that our traders will pay them a fortune for one year's crop. Then, again, our merchants and traders are to blame for the small inducements they have offered the farmers to bring their produce to market. Too many of our traders demand and expect cash down for their goods, wares and merchandise, instead of exchanging with the farmers for their produce.

The same thing relative to high prices for every thing sold also applies with equal, if not greater force to the merchants and traders of the country. The fact is, we all want to get rich too fast, and the result is, that but few realize their desires. As the matter now stands our farmers do not try to raise produce for market, because they can't get a big price for their articles, and our traders won't buy of the farmers because they can get such articles elsewhere at cheaper rates. The farmer says he can't afford to raise produce for market, and sell at low figures because he has to pay high rates for labor on his farm and exhorbitant prices for his groceries and goods which he is necessarily compelled to use while engaged in this labor. The trader or merchant says he won't buy of the farmer because he can procure and ship the same articles at less cost from a foreign market and he further demands a high price for his goods, &c., because the capital he has invested commands a high rate of interest, which, together with the dangers of loss or accident on this coast, kept so on account of there being so little commerce, and the still further desire of getting rich as quick as possible, influences him to demand these prices. These causes together with others we might name, have kept our markets continuously backward and dull with but little life or activity, vitality or permanency, and will continue to keep them so until a more liberal policy is adopted and greater energy used by our people to bring about a healthier state of action.

THE NEW IRON WORKS.—We learn that the new Iron works, on the Tualatin River four miles above Oregon City, will commence operations in ten or twelve days. The machinery, all of which was made at Oregon City, is being put up. It will employ about sixteen hands. Mr. A. K. Olds, the proprietor, is an experienced iron miner, from the Eastern States. He believes that he can produce a better article of iron than any shipped here from the ore on the Tualatin, and at a lower price.

FROM BOISE RIVER.—We have received a lengthy communication from our old friend Wm. Daly, Esq., giving a description of a trip recently made by him from Auburn to the Boise River mines, which we will publish to-morrow.

From Lewiston

We take the following items from the Golden Age of November 8th

GOLD BAR.—A ... of ... the Sanitary Committee with ... forward ... the citizens of Lewiston to the President of the ... and Dr. Bellows at Washington through the Express of Wells, Fargo & Co. This is the first contribution of the citizens of Lewiston for the relief of the sick soldiers ... [illegible] ... generosity and patriotism to the government.

The Committee of Safety ... report the town quiet ... on duty night and day ... healthy state of affairs exist.

SHIPMENT OF PRISONERS.—Three Infantry prisoners were sent to Walla Walla ... day last for Court Martial ... Wm. Rowland ... accompanied them for trial.

ROUTE TO THE BOISE MINES.—Our merchants have determined to open if practicable a nearer route than any yet discovered to these mines. By a contribution of our merchants and business men generally three men have been provided with the ways and means and have started on their prospecting tour. It is an established fact that it can be made inside of 150 miles. As the mines are almost due South any one can see that it is only 24 ... It is the belief that a fine and feasible road can be found not over 170 miles.

ASTONISHING REPORTS FROM BOISE MINES.—Mr. Lamb has just arrived from these mines by the way of Slate Creek, and brings with him some beautiful specimens of dust. He says thousands are flocking in there and all are able to get good claims. He is loud in their praise, and says no diggings discovered pay less than $14, and the average he says will reach $30 and $40 per day to the man. Provisions meet with a ready sale. He returns as soon as he procures ... mining implements.

THE FEELING IN THE BORDER STATES.—There is, we believe, a better feeling growing up in the Border States in regard to the President's emancipation proclamation. They begin to look at it in its true light; not as a pandering to the so-called philanthropy of any set of men, but as an earnest solemn measure demanded by the exigencies of the crisis. The Louisville Journal, which was very bitter at first, says significantly:

The storm that is brewing will be terrible no doubt, visiting the direst disasters upon the people, with untold death and destruction, but our own great national sins must be washed out by the blood of the nation, and we may as well prepare for the deluge while its signs are in the heavens. The rainbow of promise insuring the God given covenant of liberty to mankind will certainly appear for us in due season, when all the world will stand amazed and say, "See! the greatest nation has passed the most trying ordeal in all history, and has come out of it chastened, characterized, improved and strengthened, whilst democracy and republicanism are placed upon the surest foundation and must exist in and extend to all the ends of the earth." America will be free after this struggle. The land will be forever an inheritance for white men, robbing England of her greatest boast, for this Government alone will guaranty freedom to every one who may set foot upon the soil.

A SUPPOSED MONEY PLOT.—It is well known that the representative of a vast European banking house has avowed himself willing to spend money largely to secure Seymour's election. This gentleman is also known to be the main moneyed stay of the large daily journal advocating Seymour's election, now being kept alive in New York by the subscriptions of prominent members of the Seymour Democratic party.

To the foregoing facts rumor adds—and the intrinsic probabilities seem to confirm—that the European bankers thus represented on the Seymour side, by their adroit political and financial agent, have lent money largely to the rebel government, at discounts from 50 to 75 and 85 per cent. on the face of the bonds and other securities given to them in return; their calculation being that some such reactionary party as that now having Seymour for its banner-man must sooner or later obtain control of our government, and that immediately a compromise will be made whereby the North is to consolidate its own debt with that of the Confederacy, and place all bond and bill holders, North and South, on a precisely similar footing.

It is for this reason that most European bankers, and these bankers in particular, have abstained altogether, or very nearly altogether from making permanent investments in Northern securities, while eagerly buying up, through European consuls and others, the depreciated bills and promises of the Confederate States. Their calculation is that the eventual success of the reactionists in the North, coupled with the incomprehensible toleration of our Government and the boundless generosity, not to call it weakness, of our people, is eventually to force a settlement which will have for its first effect to place all national and rebel securities of every sort on a precisely equal footing—thus depreciating the paper of the North, in which these money changers have made no permanent investments, to one half or something less than half its present worth, while elevating rebel scrip of all kinds of which tens of millions are locked up in their vaults, to twice or more than twice the amounts that were originally paid for it—these obligations having been recklessly incurred by the rebel government, as their only means of paying for the arms and vessels of war imported from and now being manufactured in England.—National Intelligencer.

STORMS IN THE EAST.—A fierce tornado or hurricane passed over Baltimore on the morning of October 22d. Houses were shaken, chimneys blown down, the roofs of several houses injured, and occasionally trees uprooted. Signs and window shutters were carried away, while evidences of a fierce storm existed all over the city. Some small vessels in the harbor were upset or driven ashore. A storm passed over Columbus, Ohio, lately, almost turning the day into night. In door labor could not be performed at mid day without the aid of artificial light.

A LIBERAL PLANTER.—Mr. Lossing writes that Capt. Maunsel White, the Louisiana planter, who has agreed to pay his negroes for their labor, was a captain in Jackson's army in defense of New Orleans in 1815, and has since become one of the wealthiest as he is one of the worthiest planters in Louisiana. His magnificent estate of Deer Range is in the parish of Plaquemines. I am informed, adds Mr. Lossing, that he set his face against the rebellion at the beginning, and has steadily kept that position.

THE REBEL FINANCES.—According to the official report laid before the rebel Congress, the rebel debt on the 1st of August was $347,272,958, and the appropriations required up to the first of January next are $209,550,487—making a total of $556,823,445. It is supposed that Congress will be under the necessity of providing for another war tax.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.

LATER FROM THE EAST.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—Gen. Burnside has issued a general order organizing the army into three grand divisions, commanded respectively by Generals Sumner, Franklin and Hooker. A reserve corps will be formed to be commanded by Gen. Sigel. The heads of the various staff departments other than Adjutant General remain unchanged.

A number of prominent shipping merchants are now here urging upon the Secretary of War and the Navy the importance of immediately and effectually sealing up Charleston harbor, which is at present the great port of entrance of all contraband trade.

The Macon (Ga.) Telegraph of the 10th ... wishes for peace, and says: "We are anxious for peace, ... longing for its ever ... until ... Heaven ... except that peace is based upon Southern independence."

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—A special dispatch from Warrenton says Burnside has submitted his plan of the campaign to the authorities at Washington. As soon as a response is received the army will move.

Advices from various parts of the Southern coast say that nearly all the rebel salt works on the coast of Florida and Louisiana have been destroyed by our gunboats.

The New Orleans negro brigade is stationed at Algiers. The whole Texan coast is sealed by our blockaders.

Advices from New Orleans state that the expedition under Gen. Weitzel met the rebels at Thibodeauxville and defeated them after a brisk fight. Upwards of 200 of the enemy were killed, wounded and captured. Our loss was 18 killed and 74 wounded. The enemy were pursued toward Berwick Bay.

The Warrenton (Va.) correspondent of the Tribune says the Army of the Potomac is under marching orders. Gen. Sumner, commanding two large corps, leaves Monday morning en route for an important point. As it will take two or three days to reach this point it would be improper to tell where it is. The correspondent ridicules the idea that Jackson has fallen in our rear or flanked Burnside's army, and says General Lee will require the services of Jackson in front very soon if he has not already been ordered to join the main body of the rebel army.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 17th.—It is reported that 20,000 rebels under Hindman are near Ozark, and 12,000 under Holmes in the vicinity of Little Rock.

CHICAGO, Nov. 18th.—The New Orleans papers of November 5th give a full account of the brilliant victory gained over the rebels by Gen. Weitzel, at Bayou Laforche.—From a gentleman present, the Picayune learns the following particulars:

On Monday, November 3d, the Confederates marched to Napoleonville to meet United States forces there, and select a suitable position there, but fell back ... miles, to a spot where the engagement took place. The Confederates numbered about 330. Our forces, on arriving at Napoleonville, heard that the rebels had fallen back, and immediately pressed forward in pursuit, feeling for them with shell occasionally.—Toward 4 o'clock, p. m., our forces came in sight of the enemy—being drawn up in position.

The fight commenced at once, our forces opening with shell while the 11th Connecticut and 8th New Hampshire were crossing the Bayou under the brisk fire of the enemy. The two regiments named attacked the Confederates in front, and, at the same time the 75th N. Y. marched and took position in the rear of the 11th Connecticut. While the enemy were attacked in front a body of Federal cavalry advanced to attack them in flank, but about the time they got within fighting distance the rebels, unable longer to withstand the vigorous onset made by an overwhelming force, surrendered. The fight did not last more than half an hour. The informant thinks it was quite warmly contested, both sides displaying great courage. He also says that when the fight was over, most of the rebels having laid down their arms, the Captain of one of the companies of the 13th Connecticut advanced on Col. McPeters and demanded a surrender. The latter refused, and drawing a pistol shot the Captain.

Immediately a private of the 13th Connecticut shot the Colonel through the head, killing him on the spot. So infuriated were the men of that regiment at the shooting of the Captain, that it was with the utmost difficulty that the officers could restrain them from marching and killing the whole rebel force.

We lost 16 killed and 60 wounded. Rebel loss unknown—180 prisoners were captured and paroled.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 18.—President Lincoln has issued an order enjoining upon soldiers and sailors a strict observance of the Sabbath.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Brig. General Wright received an order by telegraph from the Secretary of War, yesterday, to muster into service forthwith Capt. Reed's company of California Rangers for active service in the United States army. Those who have signed the roll of the company will undergo medical examination.

The Daily Oregonian.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

THAT HOLE AGAIN.—It will be remembered that we called the attention of our Street Commissioner some time since to an ugly break in the planking, at the crossing of Taylor and Front streets. No notice, however, was taken of the matter, and the breakage referred to has continued to grow larger and wider, until yesterday we are informed that a loaded wagon went through, sinking down to the bed, which required the assistance of 15 or 20 men to extricate. The place now presents a horrid appearance, so much so as to prevent the use of that portion of the street. Whether it will be repaired or not we are unable to say, as the Street Commissioner has solemnly declared that he will not act in that capacity until he is paid for services rendered heretofore. It is further doubtful whether the city will authorize the repairing done, as the law now provides that one half of the expense for repairs shall be paid out of the public funds, and as the city council are opposed to this provision, they will not establish the precedent in this instance. If the repairing is done, it will have to be done at the expense of property owners adjacent, who, judging from past experience, are not likely to attend to it, or if attempted, will only patch it up temporarily, to be broken up again by the first heavy load that passes over it.

LADIES' FAIR.—We are requested to state that a Ladies' Fair will be given by a number of fair ladies, at the Gymnasium Hall, on Wednesday the 3d day of December next, for the benefit of the Presbyterian Church in this city. Admission 50 cents. Supper will be served in the Hall. We are informed that the ladies friendly to this society have already purchased a lot for the erection of a Church house, upon paying $1,500 for the same. The gentlemen are to build the house, and the ladies propose to raise $1,000 more to fit it up with seats, &c. A very laudable undertaking, and we know that they will succeed, for when the ladies undertake anything of this character they are bound to succeed.

FROM CASCADES.—The Wilson G. Hunt, which has taken the place of the Julia, arrived last evening at an early hour from the Cascades, bringing down 84 passengers. Nothing of importance from the Upper Country.

ATTENTION VOLUNTEERS!—An opportunity is again offered for all who desire to show their patriotism by enlisting in the army of the Government, to do so under the most favorable circumstances. Lieut. Toohill is now in this city for the purpose of recruiting another company of volunteers for Col. Steinberger's regiment, W. T. Volunteers. For further particulars, see advertisement.

PRIVATE SOIREE.—We are requested to say that a private dancing party will be given at the "Dennison House," this evening, instead of Thursday evening, as announced in the Commercial of last evening. We acknowledge the reception of a polite invitation to attend and participate in the festivities of the evening.

That Proclamation

Editor Oregonian:

I simply desire to state through the columns of your journal, that acting for and in behalf of the Portland Typographical Union, I respectfully decline answering the recent proclamation, published in the columns of the Evening Commercial, purporting to have emanated from Mr. Albert M. Snyder, knowing that my obligations as a member of said Union precludes a public discussion of its acts.

Very respectfully,
URBAN E. HICKS,
President Typographical Union.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS!! MOTHERS!!!—DON'T fail to procure MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP for CHILDREN. This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the most experienced and skilful Nurses in New England, and has been used with never failing [illegible] in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve White's Patent Lever Trusses.—These instruments are recommended to the public as the best ever yet invented. The principle is new and different from any other. The Pad works over a knuckle giving it a circular INWARD and UPWARD motion, thus being able to support the rupture with half the pressure required by other Trusses. The pain consequent upon heavy pressure is thereby avoided.

These instruments will not rust, and are the lightest, more durable and most cleanly of all others. They can be washed at pleasure. Many persons have been cured by them of ruptures of several years standing.

This medicine has been used in private practice for many years with great success. Indeed, in no instance has it failed to effect a speedy cure in Ague cases, in one bottle having been found sufficient in most cases, and in none are more than two bottles required.

A great number of testimonials could be given to verify these statements, but the proprietor prefers relying upon the merits of the medicine alone. A cure is guaranteed in nine cases out of ten.

Filling and cleaning teeth and all operations in Dental Surgery, either surgical or mechanical, performed in the most thorough and highly finished manner. None but the most permanent and finished operations performed, and no inducements to patients by [illegible] highly finished operations. I use no cement in filling teeth, and seek no price to make it compete with cheap Dentists, and desire the patronage of such persons only as wish their operations performed in the most perfect and skillful manner.

Operations that fail of giving satisfaction need not be taken or paid for. Office hours from 9 A. M. to 4 P. M. Indigent persons who are unable to pay full price will call before and after office hours.

TREATIES

Treaty [illegible] United States [illegible] 1860

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.

A PROCLAMATION.

Whereas a treaty [illegible] United States of America and [illegible] was concluded and signed at [illegible] by their respective plenipotentiaries [illegible] 1858, which treaty is word for word as follows:

The United States of America and the Ta Tsing Empire, desiring to maintain firm, lasting and sincere friendship, have resolved to renew, in a manner clear and positive, by means of a treaty or general convention of peace, amity and commerce, the rules which shall in future be mutually observed in the intercourse of their respective countries; for which most desirable object the President of the United States and the august sovereign of the Ta Tsing Empire have named for their plenipotentiaries, to wit: The President of the United States of America, William B. Reed, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary to China; and his Majesty the Emperor of China, Kweiliang, a member of the Privy Council and Superintendent of the Board of Punishments; and Hwashana, President of the Board of Civil Office and Major General of the Bordered Blue Banner Division of the Chinese Banner men, both of them being Imperial Commissioners and Plenipotentiaries: and the said Ministers, in virtue of the respective full powers they have received from their governments, have agreed upon the following articles:

Article I. There shall be, as there have always been, peace and friendship between the United States of America and the Ta Tsing Empire, and between their people respectively. They shall not insult or oppress each other for any trifling cause, so as to produce an estrangement between them; and if any other nation should act unjustly or oppressively, the United States will exert their good offices, on being informed of the case, to bring about an amicable arrangement of the question, thus showing their friendly feelings.

Article II. In order to perpetuate friendship, on the exchange of ratifications by the President, with the advice and consent of the Senate of the United States, and by his Majesty the Emperor of China, this treaty shall be kept and sacredly guarded in this way, viz: The original treaty, as ratified by the President of the United States, shall be deposited at Pekin, the capital of his Majesty the Emperor of China, in charge of the Privy Council; and, as ratified by his Majesty the Emperor of China, shall be deposited at Washington, the capital of the United States, in charge of the Secretary of State.

Article III. In order that the people of the two countries may know and obey the provisions of this treaty, the United States of America agree, immediately on the exchange of ratifications, to proclaim the same and to publish it by proclamation in the gazettes where the laws of the United States of America are published by authority; and his Majesty the Emperor of China, on the exchange of ratifications, agrees immediately to direct the publication of the same at the capital and by the governors of all the provinces.

Article IV. In order further to perpetuate friendship, the minister or commissioner or the highest diplomatic representative of the United States of America in China shall at all times have the right to correspond on terms of perfect equality and confidence with the officers of the Privy Council at the capital, or with the governors-general of the Two Kwangs, the provinces of Fuhkien and Chehkiang, or of the Two Kiangs; and whenever he desires to have such correspondence with the Privy Council at the capital he shall have the right to send it through either of the said governors-general or by the general post; and all such communications shall be sent under seal, which shall be most carefully respected. The Privy Council and governors-general, as the case may be, shall in all cases consider and acknowledge such communications promptly and respectfully.

Article V. The minister of the United States of America in China, whenever he has business, shall have the right to visit and sojourn at the capital of his Majesty the Emperor of China, and there confer with a member of the Privy Council, or any other high officer of equal rank deputed for that purpose, on matters of common interest and advantage. His visits shall not exceed one in each year, and he shall complete his business without unnecessary delay. He shall be allowed to go by land or come to the mouth of the Peiho, into which he shall not bring ships-of-war, and he shall inform the authorities at that place in order that boats may be provided for him to go on his journey. He is not to take advantage of this stipulation to request visits to the capital on trivial occasions. Whenever he means to proceed to the capital, he shall communicate in writing his intention to the Board of Rites at the capital, and thereupon the said Board shall give the necessary directions to facilitate his journey and give him necessary protection and respect on his way. On his arrival at the capital, he shall be furnished with a suitable residence prepared for him, and he shall defray his own expenses; and his entire suite shall not exceed twenty persons, exclusive of his Chinese attendants, none of whom shall be engaged in trade.

Article VI. If at any time his Majesty the Emperor of China shall, by treaty voluntarily made, or for any other reason, permit the representative of any friendly nation to reside at his capital for a long or short time, then, without any further consultation or express permission, the representative of the United States in China shall have the same privilege.

Article VII. The superior authorities of the United States and of China, in corresponding together, shall do so on terms of equality and in form of mutual communication (chauhwui). The consuls and the local officers, civil and military, in corresponding together shall likewise employ the style and form of mutual communication (chauhwui). When inferior officers of the one government address superior officers of the other, they shall do so in the style and form of memorial (shin chin). Private individuals, in addressing superior officers, shall employ the style of petition (pinching). In no case shall any terms or style be used or suffered which shall be offensive or disrespectful to either party. And it is agreed that no presents, under any pretext or form whatever, shall ever be demanded of the United States by China, or of China by the United States.

Article VIII. In all future personal intercourse between the representative of the United States of America and the governors-general or governors, the interviews shall be had at the official residence of the said officers, or at their temporary residence, or at the residence of the representative of the United States of America, whichever may be agreed upon between them; nor shall they make any pretext for declining these interviews. Current matters shall be discussed by correspondence, so as not to give the trouble of a personal meeting.

Article IX. Whenever national vessels of the United States of America, in cruising along the coast and among the ports opened for trade for the protection of the commerce of their country or for the advancement of science, shall arrive at or near any of the ports of China, commanders of said ships and the superior local authorities of government shall, if it be necessary, hold intercourse on terms of equality and courtesy, in token of the friendly relations of their respective nations; and the said vessels shall enjoy all suitable facilities on the part of the Chinese government in procuring provisions or other supplies and making necessary repairs. And the United States of America agree that, in case of the shipwreck of any American vessel and its being pillaged by pirates, or in case any American vessel shall be pillaged or captured by pirates on the seas adjacent to the coast, without being shipwrecked, the national vessels of the United States shall pursue the said pirates, and if captured deliver them over for trial and punishment.

Article X. The United States of America shall have the right to appoint consuls and other commercial agents for the protection of trade, to reside at such places in the dominions of China as shall be agreed to be opened; who shall hold official intercourse and correspondence with the local officers of the Chinese government (a consul or vice-consul in charge taking rank with an intendant of circuit or a prefect), either personally or in writing, as occasion may require, on terms of equality and reciprocal respect. And the consuls and local officers shall employ the style of mutual communication. If the officers of either nation are disrespectfully treated or aggrieved in any way by the other authorities, they have the right to make representation of the same to the superior officers of the respective governments, who shall see that full inquiry and strict justice shall be had in the premises. And the said consuls and agents shall carefully avoid all acts of offence to the officers and people of China. On the arrival of a consul duly accredited at any port in China, it shall be the duty of the minister of the United States to notify the same to the governor-general of the province where he is to reside, who shall forthwith recognize the said consul and grant him authority to act.

Article XI. All citizens of the United States of America in China, peaceably attending to their affairs, being placed on a common footing of amity and good will with subjects of China, shall receive and enjoy for themselves and everything appertaining to them the protection of the local authorities of government, who shall defend them from all insult and injury of any sort. If their dwellings or property be threatened or attacked by mobs, incendiaries, or other violent or lawless persons, the local officers, on requisition of the consul, shall immediately despatch a military force to disperse the rioters, apprehend the guilty individuals, and punish them with the utmost rigor of the law. Subjects of China guilty of any criminal act towards citizens of the United States shall be punished by the Chinese authorities according to the laws of China; and citizens of the United States, either on shore or in any merchant vessel, who may insult, trouble, or wound the persons or injure the property of Chinese, or commit any other improper act in China, shall be punished only by the consul or other public functionary thereto authorized, according to the laws of the United States. Arrests in order to trial may be made by either the Chinese or the United States authorities.

Article XII. Citizens of the United States, residing or sojourning at any of the ports open to foreign commerce, shall be permitted to rent houses and places of business, or hire sites on which they can themselves build houses or hospitals, churches and cemeteries. The parties interested can fix the rent by mutual and equitable agreement; the proprietors shall not demand an exorbitant price, nor shall the local authorities interfere, unless there be some objections offered on the part of the inhabitants respecting the place. The legal fees to the officers for applying their seal shall be paid. The citizens of the United States shall not unreasonably insist on particular spots, but each party shall conduct with justice and moderation. Any desecration of the cemeteries by natives of China shall be severely punished according to law. At the places where the ships of the United States anchor, or their citizens reside, the merchants, seamen, or others can freely pass and repass in the immediate neighborhood; but, in order to the preservation of the public peace, they shall not go into the country to the villages and marts to sell their goods unlawfully, in fraud of the revenue.

Article XIII. If any vessel of the United States be wrecked or stranded on the coast of China, and be subjected to plunder or other damage, the proper officers of government, on receiving information of the fact, shall immediately adopt measures for its relief and security; the persons on board shall receive friendly treatment, and be enabled at once to repair to the nearest port, and shall enjoy all facilities for obtaining supplies of provisions and water. If the merchant vessels of the United States, while within the waters over which the Chinese government exercises jurisdiction, be plundered by robbers or pirates, then the Chinese local authorities, civil and military, on receiving information thereof, shall arrest the said robbers or pirates, and punish them according to law, and shall cause all the property which can be recovered to be restored to the owners, or placed in the hands of the consul. If, by reason of the extent of territory and numerous population of China, it shall in any case happen that the robbers cannot be apprehended, and the property only in part recovered, the Chinese government shall not make indemnity for the goods lost; but if it shall be proved that the local authorities have been in collusion with the robbers, the same shall be communicated to the superior authorities for memorializing the Throne, and these officers shall be severely punished, and their property be confiscated to repay the losses.

Article XIV. The citizens of the United States are permitted to frequent the ports and cities of Canton and Chau-chau or Swatau, in the province of Kwang-tung; Amoy, Fuh-chau, and Tai-wan in Formosa, in the province of Fuh-kien; Ningpo, in the province of Cheh-kiang; and Shanghai, in the province of Kiang-su, and any other port or place hereafter by treaty with other powers or with the United States opened to commerce, and to reside with their families and trade there, and to proceed at pleasure with their vessels and merchandise from any of these ports to any other of them. But said vessels shall not carry on a clandestine and fraudulent trade at other ports of China not declared to be legal, or along the coasts thereof; and any vessel under the American flag violating this provision shall, with her cargo, be subject to confiscation to the Chinese government; and any citizen of the United States who shall trade in any contraband article of merchandise shall be subject to be dealt with by the Chinese government, without being entitled to any countenance or protection from that of the United States; and the United States will take measures to prevent their flag from being abused by the subjects of other nations, as a cover for the violation of the laws of the Empire.

Article XV. At each of the ports open to commerce, citizens of the United States shall be permitted to import from abroad, and sell, purchase, and export all merchandise of which the importation or exportation is not prohibited by the laws of the Empire. The tariff of duties to be paid by citizens of the United States, on the export and import of goods from and into China, shall be the same as was agreed upon at the treaty of Wanghia, except so far as it may be modified by treaties with other nations; it being expressly agreed that citizens of the United States shall never pay higher duties than those paid by the most favored nations.

Article XVI. Tonnage duties shall be paid on every merchant vessel belonging to the United States entering either of the open ports, at the rate of four mace per ton of forty cubic feet, if she be over one hundred and fifty tons burden; and one mace per ton of forty cubic feet, if she be of the burden of one hundred and fifty tons or under, according to the tonnage specified in the register, which, with her other papers, shall, on her arrival, be lodged with the consul, who shall report the same to the commissioner of customs. And if any vessel, having paid tonnage duty at one port, shall go to any other port to complete the disposal of her cargo, or, being in ballast, to purchase an entire or fill up an incomplete cargo, the consul shall report the same to the commissioner of customs, who shall note on the port clearance that the tonnage duties have been paid, and report the circumstances to the collectors at the other custom-houses; in which case the said vessel shall only pay duty on her cargo, and not be charged with tonnage duty a second time. The collectors of customs at the open ports shall consult with the consuls about the erection of beacons or light-houses, and where buoys and light-ships should be placed.

Article XVII. Citizens of the United States shall be allowed to engage pilots to take their vessels into port, and, when the lawful duties have all been paid, take them out of port. It shall be lawful for them to hire at pleasure servants, compradores, linguists, writers, laborers, seamen, and persons for whatever necessary service, with passage or cargo boats, for a reasonable compensation, to be agreed upon by the parties or determined by the consul.

Article XVIII. Whenever merchant vessels of the United States shall enter a port, the collector of customs shall, if he see fit, appoint custom-house officers to guard said vessels, who may live on board the ship or their own boats, at their convenience. The local authorities of the Chinese government shall cause to be apprehended all mutineers or deserters from on board the vessels of the United States in China on being informed by the consul, and will deliver them up to the consuls or other officer for punishment. And if criminals, subjects of China, take refuge in the houses or on board the vessels of citizens of the United States, they shall not be harbored or concealed, but shall be delivered up to justice on due requisition by the Chinese local officers, addressed to those of the United States. The merchants, seamen, and other citizens of the United States shall be under the superintendence of the appropriate officers of their government. If individuals of either nation commit acts of violence or disorder, use arms to the injury of others, or create disturbances endangering life, the officers of the two governments will exert themselves to enforce order and to maintain the public peace, by doing impartial justice in the premises.

Article XIX. Whenever a merchant vessel belonging to the United States shall cast anchor in either of the said ports, the supercargo, master, or consignee shall, within forty-eight hours, deposit the ship's papers in the hands of the consul or person charged with his functions, who shall cause to be communicated to the superintendent of customs a true report of the name and tonnage of such vessel, the number of her crew, and the nature of her cargo; which being done, he shall give a permit for her discharge. And the master, supercargo, or consignee, if he proceed to discharge the cargo without such permit, shall incur a fine of five hundred dollars, and the goods so discharged without permit shall be subject to forfeiture to the Chinese government. But if a master of any vessel in port desire to discharge a part only of the cargo, it shall be lawful for him to do so, paying duty on such part only, and to proceed with the remainder to any other ports. Or if the master so desire, he may, within forty-eight hours after the arrival of the vessel, but not later, decide to depart without breaking bulk; in which case he shall not be subject to pay tonnage or other duties or charges until, on his arrival at another port, he shall proceed to discharge cargo, when he shall pay the duties on vessel and cargo, according to law. And the tonnage duties shall be held due after the expiration of the said forty-eight hours. In case of the absence of the consul or person charged with his functions, the captain or supercargo of the vessel may have recourse to the consul of a friendly power, or, if he please, directly to the superintendent of customs, who shall do all that is required to conduct the ship's business.

Article XX. The superintendent of customs, in order to the collection of the proper duties, shall, on application made to him through the consul, appoint suitable officers, who shall proceed, in the presence of the captain, supercargo, or consignee, to make a just and fair examination of all goods in the act of being discharged for importation or laden for exportation on board any merchant vessel of the United States. And if dispute occur in regard to the value of goods subject to ad valorem duty, or in regard to the amount of tare, and the same cannot be satisfactorily arranged by the parties, the question may, within twenty-four hours, and not afterwards, be referred to the said consul to adjust with the superintendent of customs.

Article XXI. Citizens of the United States who may have imported merchandise into any of the free ports of China, and paid the duty thereon, if they desire to re-export the same in part or in whole to any other of the said ports, shall be entitled to make application, through their consul, to the superintendent of customs, who, in order to prevent fraud on the revenue, shall cause examination to be made by suitable officers to see that the duties paid on such goods as are entered on the custom-house books correspond with the representation made, and that the goods remain with their original marks unchanged, and shall then make a memorandum in the port clearance of the goods and the amount of duties paid on the same, and deliver the same to the merchant, and shall also certify the facts to the officers of customs of the other ports; all which being done, on the arrival in port of the vessel in which the goods are laden, everything being found on examination there to correspond, she shall be permitted to break bulk and land the said goods without being subject to the payment of any additional duty thereon. [illegible]

Article XXII. The tonnage duty on vessels of the United States shall be paid on their being admitted to entry. Duties of import shall be paid on the discharge of the goods, and duties of export on the lading of the same. [illegible]

Article XXIII. When goods on board any merchant vessel of the United States in port require to be transshipped to another vessel, application shall be made to the consul, who shall certify what is the occasion therefor to the superintendent of customs, who may appoint officers to examine into the facts and permit the transshipment. [illegible]

Article XXIV. Where there are debts due by subjects of China to citizens of the United States, the latter may seek redress in law; [illegible]

Article XXV. It shall be lawful for the officers or citizens of the United States to employ scholars and people of any part of China, without distinction of persons, to teach any of the languages of the Empire, and to assist in literary labors, and the persons so employed shall not for that cause be subject to any injury on the part either of the government or of individuals; and it shall in like manner be lawful for citizens of the United States to purchase all manner of books in China.

Article XXVI. Relations of peace and amity between the United States and China being established by this treaty, and the vessels of the United States being admitted to trade freely to and from the ports of China open to foreign commerce, it is further agreed that, in case at any time hereafter China should be at war with any foreign nation whatever, and should for that cause exclude such nation from entering her ports, still the vessels of the United States shall not the less continue to pursue their commerce in freedom and security, and to transport goods to and from the ports of the belligerent powers, full respect being paid to the neutrality of the flag of the United States: Provided, That the said flag shall not protect vessels engaged in the transportation of officers or soldiers in the enemy's service, nor shall said flag be fraudulently used to enable the enemy's ships, with their cargoes, to enter the ports of China; but all such vessels so offending shall be subject to forfeiture and confiscation to the Chinese government.

Article XXVII. All questions in regard to rights, whether of property or person, arising between citizens of the United States in China, shall be subject to the jurisdiction and regulated by the authorities of their own government; and all controversies occurring in China between citizens of the United States and the subjects of any other government shall be regulated by the treaties existing between the United States and such governments, respectively, without interference on the part of China.

Article XXVIII. If citizens of the United States have special occasion to address any communication to the Chinese local officers of government, they shall submit the same to their consul or other officer, to determine if the language be proper and respectful, and the matter just and right, in which event he shall transmit the same to the appropriate authorities for their consideration and action in the premises. If subjects of China have occasion to address the consul of the United States, they may address him directly at the same time they inform their own officers, representing the case for his consideration and action in the premises; and if controversies arise between citizens of the United States and subjects of China, which cannot be amicably settled otherwise, the same shall be examined and decided conformably to justice and equity by the public officers of the two nations, acting in conjunction. The extortion of illegal fees is expressly prohibited. Any peaceable persons are allowed to enter the court in order to interpret, lest injustice be done.

Article XXIX. The principles of the Christian religion, as professed by the Protestant and Roman Catholic churches, are recognized as teaching men to do good, and to do to others as they would have others do to them. Hereafter those who quietly profess and teach these doctrines shall not be harassed or persecuted on account of their faith. Any person, whether citizen of the United States or Chinese convert, who, according to these tenets, peaceably teach and practice the principles of Christianity, shall in no case be interfered with or molested.

Article XXX. The contracting parties hereby agree that should at any time the Ta Tsing Empire grant to any nation, or the merchants or citizens of any nation, any right, privilege, or favor, connected either with navigation, commerce, political or other intercourse, which is not conferred by this treaty, such right, privilege, and favor shall at once freely enure to the benefit of the United States, its public officers, merchants, and citizens.

The present treaty of peace, amity, and commerce shall be ratified by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, within one year, or sooner, if possible, and by the august Sovereign of the Ta Tsing Empire forthwith; and the ratifications shall be exchanged within one year from the date of the signatures thereof.

In faith whereof we, the respective plenipotentiaries of the United States of America and of the Ta Tsing Empire, as aforesaid, have signed and sealed these presents.

Done at Tientsin this eighteenth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty-eight, and the Independence of the United States of America the eighty-second, and in the eighth year of Hienfung, fifth month and eighth day.

WILLIAM B. REED. [L. S.]
HWASHANA. [L. S.]

And whereas the said treaty has been duly ratified on both parts, and the respective ratifications of the same have been exchanged:

Now, therefore, be it known that I, JAMES BUCHANAN, President of the United States of America, have caused the said treaty to be made public, to the end that the same, and every clause and article thereof, may be observed and fulfilled with good faith by the United States and the citizens thereof.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington this twenty-sixth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty, and of the Independence of the United States the eighty-fourth.

[L. S.] JAMES BUCHANAN.

By the President:
LEW CASS, Secretary of State.
